Project Brief

The project is a short form book on the effects of AI to writers. The project is being done in partnership with renowned writer and 2023 NAMA nominee Tawanda Vombo. The book will include text snippets from writers around the continent explaining how they have been negatively or positively affected by the AI in the writing space. Writers are free to express their view of the future for writing considering the availability of AI writing tools. The objective of the project is to understand if writers can survive or actually make use of the now available AI tools.

Project Categories

Writing

Timeline

4 weeks

Contributors

CollaboMe Creative Community

Partners

Tawanda Vombo

ToDo

Write your contribution of what you think about AI in a txt or word document

Guidelines

Writers to submit word or txt format

Output

Short form book on AI in writing

Distribution

Released on CollaboMe social media platforms

The 263Post (Media Partner)